COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is designed to teach individuals with a growing passion for photography the fundamentals that they will need to progress in the medium. Back to Basics: Film will build a strong foundation for those interested in the production of quality photographic images.

Through demonstrations, lectures, colour slide exercises and hands-on experience, students will address both aesthetic and technical concerns, and learn composition, film choices, metering, camera techniques, exposure, black and white darkroom film processing and printing, and other skills vital to the photographic craft. Brandon Clarida will then guide participants through the creation of expressive black and white prints from their own negatives, encouraging personal creative development in specific areas of interest.

Darkroom chemistry is included in the tuition fee for Back to Basics: Film. Students must purchase their own film, photographic paper, and negative sleeves. All film camera formats are welcome. This is a basic level course, which teaches fundamentals necessary for some other SPAO courses and workshops. Enrolment is limited to ensure one-on-one attention.
